

CAG 2018 Conference

Don't Stop Believing (in what you are doing)

Monday 14 May—Thursday 17 May 2018

University of Victoria

I think I shall attend CAG this year.

inspire.share.learn

The CAG conference will be an energizing and educational opportunity for you to engage and discover.

Inspire—relevant and practical ways to help you keep on believing in what you are doing

Share—strategies, ideas and concerns

Learn— from speakers and colleagues

Conference Program

Join us for an exciting program featuring a wide variety of speakers on topics that you have indicated are important to you and the work that you do; Dr. Laura Buker (Lolehawk) on our stories from the past. Katie Gemmell on researching Catholic Education in Catholic Archives. Debra Majer on outreach and Gary Mitchell on transitions. Also a field trip to an archives and two historic sites. An ideas fair and much, much more.

Victoria the Queen City

The Conference falls just before Victoria Day. Stay a couple of extra days and take advantage of your visit to the beautiful West Coast of British Columbia. Experience the harbour, the Empress Hotel, Royal BC Museum, shopping and many other activities. If you need assistance or suggestions, please contact any member of the planning committee.

We are looking forward to welcoming you

Your Planning Committee: Theresa Vogel Jennifer Sargent, Richard Sinclair and Carey Pallister,

Queen of Hospitality: Mickey King
